

At Greenside School we believe that planned benefits of outdoor learning provide positive opportunities for active learning; the outside environment can promote skills of enquiry, independence, problem solving, communication, co-operation, creativity and evaluation. It can provide relevant, engaging opportunities that support learning in all areas of the curriculum and help young people to:

- Develop self esteem, co-operate with and respect the needs of others.
- Extend their personal horizons through greater appreciation and understanding of the world and its people around them.
- Understand the need for sustainable relationships between people and their environment.
- Develop self confidence and independence skills.
- Enhance practical problem solving and teamwork skills.
- Promote a positive and knowledgeable response towards personal health and well being.
